Bluewater Ready - Sail Her Home to NZ

This well-maintained 2007 Lagoon 380 S2 is now available for sale in French Polynesia. Located in Raiatea, about 120 nautical miles from Tahiti, this catamaran is known for its comfort, reliability, and bluewater cruising capabilities – making it an ideal choice for those looking to explore the South Pacific or beyond.

Powered by twin Yanmar SD25 inboard diesel engines and two polyethylene fuel tanks (200L total), she offers dependable propulsion and impressive range. At 11.55m long with a 6.53m beam and 77sqm sail area, she's stable, smooth, and easy to handle. Her sail wardrobe includes a full-batten mainsail, furling genoa, and gennaker, with steering via pedestal-mounted wheel linked to tillers, supported by a hydraulic autopilot for effortless long-passage cruising.

On deck, the deep, well-protected cockpit with bimini makes an ideal space for relaxing at anchor or underway, with direct access to the scoop transoms for swimming or tender boarding. Anchoring is made simple with an electric windlass and waterproof remote, paired with a galvanised steel plough anchor on 85m of chain and line, plus a secondary fluke anchor on 70m of chain and line. The mast, boom, and crossbeam are all anodised aluminium for strength and longevity. A 2.9m Rigid inflatable dinghy with 5hp Yamaha outboard, solar panels, alternators, and a battery charger give you the freedom to stay off-grid for as long as you like, while modern electronics – chart plotter, multifunction displays, VHF, and compass – keep you on course.

Below, her light and airy interior offers four double cabins, two heads, extra single berths in the forward peaks, and a bright saloon with panoramic views. The galley comes equipped with a front-opening fridge, two-burner hob, and stainless steel oven, perfect for preparing fresh-caught meals. With 515L water capacity, pressurised hot water, and six fans throughout, she's designed for comfort in tropical cruising grounds. Whether your dream is months of island-hopping through French Polynesia or the exhilarating bluewater run back to NZ, this Lagoon 380 S2 is ready to take you there in comfort, safety, and style.
